transcendental horizon for the question of being Hegel, Husserl and the Phenomenology of Historical Worlds:

GWF Hegel famously described philosophy as its own time apprehended in thoughts reflecting a desire that we increasingly experience namely the desire to understand our complex and fast changing world But how can we philosophically describe the world we live in When Hegel attempted his systematic account of the historical world he needed to conceive of history as rational progress to allow for such description After the events of the twentieth century Hegel Husserl and the Phenomenology of Historical Worlds is a profound treatment of the genesis of life worlds in their cultural and historical dimensions Starting with a highly perceptive comparison of Hegel and
